Note

During the last years the name "Zither" has been greatly abused. The various kinds of musical instruments going under the name of "Zither" are for instance: "Columbia Zither," "Guitar Zither," "Accord Zither," "Lyra Zither," "Mandolin Zither," etc., which it is said may be learned in a few hours through the use of figures without notes, but these instruments have nothing in common with the real Zither.

When purchasing, one should demand a "Prim" or "Concert" Zither (generally known as and called "German Zither") as per illustration. It consists of a fingerboard of 5 strings and from 27 to 33 accompaniment and bass strings. The melody of a piece is principally played on the fingerboard and the accompaniment (harmony) on the remaining strings.
